Open Call for Submissions

The journal conceives of itself as transdisciplinary, cross-epoch and international. It primarily addresses a scholarly audience. Besides experienced researchers, transfer equally aims at early career researchers, including PhD students, offering broad impact and high accessibility for the publication of recent research. Abstaining from APCs or any other publication fees, transfer provides a genuine open access platform assuring research quality as well as transparency, fostering research interconnection and the crossing of disciplinary and institutional borders. Professional long-term archiving/data-storage, web-opac and repository indexing ensure the long-term preservation and lasting online accessibility of all content.

Articles of more than 10.000 characters are asked to be submitted together with an abstract of about 250 words in length and five indexing keywords.

The submission deadline for the first annual issue ends on May 1st 2022.

Authors should be aware that the peer-review process, conducted by external experts, might take up to several weeks. Submissions must be original and should not have been published previously or be under consideration for publication elsewhere while being evaluated for transfer. Accepted submissions will be published under the creative commons licence CC-BY 4.0. Besides that, the copyright remains with the author. Further information, editorial guidelines and the style sheet may be requested from the editorial board.
